

Overview

Amerix Precious Metals Corporation (TSXV: APM; Frankfurt: NJG) is expanding its current gold resource at Ouro Roxo (250,000 oz Au @ 5.8 g/t), evaluating large gold tailings and placers, and exploring four gold targets, all in the prolific Tapajós Gold Province, Pará State, Brazil. The company's experienced team is also seeking to acquire new properties and make new discoveries. Brazil has enormous gold potential and is a proven mining friendly country. Amerix staff has over 50 years of combined experience in Brazil, and the company has been active for over 10 years.

Amerix has two principal properties: Vila Porto Rico and Limão. Both properties have multi-million ounce potential. The properties contain historic and active gold mines that have produced over 2 million ounces from placer and bedrock mining operations by garimpeiros. The properties are accessible by private aircraft and river barge. The company's objective is to create value for shareholders through expansion of bedrock gold resources, and development of placer and tailings gold resources.
